Forest Woman Nearing 106

MRS. NAUS AS SHE APPEARED AT 105

Another birthday anniversary is drawing near for Mrs Mary Naus, the Hardin county woman who passed the century mark in her lifetime nearly six years ago.

Wednesday, Nov. 19, Mrs. Naus will celebrate her one hundred and sixth birthday, a number which she 'can hardly realize is true.'

The event will be marked at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr and Mrs J. Stanton King in Forest, with whom she has made her home for a number of years

Mrs. Naus, who, Mrs. King said, doesn't say much about her approaching birthday, is in exceptionally good health, not having had a doctor within the last year

Up every morning about 8 30 Mrs Naus spends most of the day in her rocking chair and never misses a meal. She goes to the table with the rest of the family Mrs King also added that at times, if her mother does not eat heartily during the day, she gets up at night and prepares a "snack' for Mrs. Naus

Sight, Hearing Fail

Sight and hearing have continued to fail, Mrs. King said, but Mrs. Naus still maintains her general habits. She does not understand voices she does not hear regularly, and can see objects but cannot distinguish them

Mrs. King, who regards her mother as a remarkable woman, says she wants to continue to care for her mother as long as she lives, as she knows her every wish and can almost determine when she wants or needs something. Mrs. King is with her mother constantly and very often sits down with her for long talks about the family.

Since Mrs Naus celebrated a birthday a year ago, two more of the 10 children born to her and her husband, have died, with five still living A son, William who resided in Forest most of the time, died just two days after his mother celebrated her anniversary last year, and a daughter, Mrs Flora E. Harper of Toledo, died just a few weeks ago, Oct 22.

Oldest Son Is 85

The five children living are Alva, 85, of Springfield, O, the eldest son, Mrs. Belle Krout of Chillicothe, Mrs Eva Conklin of Forest, Mrs. Cora Purdy of near Forest, and Mrs. Lillian B King with whom Mrs. Naus makes her home.

All of the 10 children were born at the Naus family farm home north of Forest where a daughter, Mrs. Purdy, now resides

Several great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren have been added within the last year but Mrs. King couldn't readily recall the exact number. A granddaughter, Mrs. Nellie Hutts of Dayton, also died since Mrs. Naus' birthday in 1946.

Mrs. Naus was the only child born to her parents, Mr and Mrs. Thomas Ketch, near Forest. Her husband, John P. Naus, died in 1929.

ATTLEE RULE FACES CRISIS

Dalton Resignation Brings On First Serious Break in Labor Government.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Nov. 14 — Britain's cabinet ministers, their faces grim, met, in emergency session today The Labor party prepared to meet full-scale conservative onslaught in the wake of a scandal which forced the resignation of Hugh Dalton as chancellor of the exchequer

The Dalton incident arose from a premature disclosure of budget information to a lobby journalist. It was a 'damaging blow' to the prestige of Prime Minister Attlee and the high government source added

Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin left the cabinet meeting a few minutes after it was convened. Those who know him well said he looked annoyed. War Minister Emanuel Shinwell, who is not a member of the cabinet, was called into the 10 minute session. He is chairman of the executive committee of Labor party members of parliament

A Labor party spokesman said the Dalton incident, disclosed last night, had not contributed to the government's popularity." He said the party felt, however, that the government's policies would "win back any support which may have been lost'

DEATH DECREED FOR INDIAN LAKE SLAYER

By The Associated Press

BELLEFONTAINE, O., Nov. 14 —Roger Williams, 33-year-old Lakeview handyman, faced death in the electric chair today after his conviction in the slaying last May 28 of a former girl friend, waitress Minta Webb Rothwell of Kenton.

A three-judge Logan county common pleas court yesterday convicted Williams of first degree murder in the fatal shooting and failed to recommend mercy.

Court adjourned until Nov. 21 before passing sentence. Attorneys said the lack of a mercy recommendation made the death penalty mandatory.

Williams pleaded guilty but the judges heard testimony from five witnesses before adjudging him guilty.

Miss Rothwell was shot at an Indian Lake cafe where she worked. Testimony showed she and Williams lived together for a time at nearby New Hampshire, O.

DULLES CALLS FOR PROGRAM TO LIMIT ARMS

Proposes Three-Power Action If Russia Fails To Join Agreement.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14—John Foster Dulles a member of the U. S. delegation to the United Nations, today called for a three-power treaty to guarantee disarmament if the four major powers can not reach agreement at the London conference.

Dulles told the senate foreign relations committee that such an agreement between the United States, Great Britain and France will "go far to assure that four will not be the designer of post-war Europe."

He said a long-term treaty between the three western powers and Russia was proposed as long ago as January, 1945.

Rep Mundt (R-SD), told the house foreign affairs committee the United State, should "build a four-sided fence" around Russia and her satellites in connection with aid to Europe

Reporting on a 22-country tour of that continent which he made last summer, Mundt said

"A three-sided fence isn't any good to fence in a wandering herd. We've got to have a fence all around with no holes under it. Geographically the Russians have stolen a lot of real estate and we can't let that continue."

Dulles Makes Other Points

The senate committee, which is studying a proposal to furnish $597,000,000 in emergency aid to France Italy and Austria, also heard Dulles make these points

►The program for European aid should be considered not primarily in terms of money but in terms of the ideas which the money would promote.

►The basic idea should be, not the rebuilding of pre-war Europe, but the building of a new Europe which, more unified will be a better Europe.

►The promotion of the better-Europe idea "requires that we ourselves find for bi-zonal Germany, and particularly the Ruhr, political solutions which will enable German productivity safely to play a large part in promoting economic welfare in Europe."

►There is a need of quick aid, but "any such aid should be noted with realization that it will be largely wasted—or worse—unless it is promptly followed by, and integrated into, a long range program which is realistic, imaginative and adequate."

Dulles, who has been called a "war-monger' by Andrei Visinsky, Russian delegate to the United Nations said the United States cannot impose its ideas on western Europe "as the Soviet Union is imposing its ideas on eastern Europe"

France Has Gold Horde

Dulles testified as members of congressional committees mulled over statements that France is clamoring for outside help while its people have from $2,000,000,000 in cold cached away besides similar assets in this country. Some committee members suggested there should be means of prying loose some of this money.

When French assets in the United States are added to the top estimate of gold hoarded in France, the figure runs up to $4,340,000,000. That is nearly double the $2,397,000,000 the American government is asking for European aid in the next 19 months.

But house experts on foreign affairs said they can see no way to pry loose any of the French gold, most of it in the hands of private citizens, in time to cut that bill.

Five Killed In Crash of B-29

2 Escape Death as Tail Section Breaks and Carries Them to Earth.

By The Associated Press

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov 14 — Five men were killed in the crash of a B-29 superfortress on Mount Spokane during a "blinding snowstorm" last night and two other men, riding in the tail section which fell to the earth just before the plane hit, were injured.

Three deputy sheriffs later suffered severe facial burns when "something inside the plane" exploded during their investigation of the accident.

The plane struck the ground about 800 feet from the top of one knob of the mountain It broke into flames after the crash.

John Linder who was operating a snow plow on the road when the plane struck, cut 100 feet away, said the plane crashed with a loud "whoosh"

Drops Near 5 Persons

The plane fell in flames, dropped almost in front of Linder Mrs. Frank J Dunton wife of the superintendent of Mt. Spokane park, said

Dunton reported the two men who survived were in the tail section which broke off when the plane hit trees before plowing along the ground to a point some 300 feet away

Dunton said the two survivors reported the pilot was "flying on instruments in a terrific snowstorm"

He said the ship stopped its plowing rush over the earth only about 100 feet from where Linder and a companion were riding along the road on a snow plow. Had it not stopped earlier, he said, it would have struck the two men.

Taken Through Snowdrift

The two injured men were carried out through 30 inches of snow and taken to the lodge by truck to await the ambulance.

The ship was a mass of flames, Dunton said, when he and Linder and the companion returned to the scene He quoted the two injured men as saying it had "5,000 gallons of gasoline aboard."

The plane was on a routine training flight from the Spokane Army airfield The survivors both were enlisted men.

Bodies of Two Marion War Dead Due Today and Saturday

The bodies of two Marion men, being returned here from overseas burial places for final interment, are scheduled to arrive today and Saturday.

Machinist's Mate 3/c Edward Ernest Snyder, from the Pacific theater, was to arrive at 3:45 p. m. today and Pfc. Clarence C. Otto, from the European theater at 4:18 p. m. Saturday on the C. & O. railroad.

Navy man Snyder was among those brought back to the United States aboard the Honda Knot from the Pacific theater which landed in California Oct. 10. He was formerly to have been buried in the New Albany National Cemetery, New Albany, Ind., but plans were changed by the family here. He will come from Distribution Center No. 8, American Graves Registration Service in Chicago, Ill., accompanied by John N. Gearhart Jr., chief machinist's mate, as the honor guard.

Returned from Europe

Pfc. Otto is one of two from Marion who were returned to the states from the European theater aboard the Army transport Joseph V. Connolly on Oct. 26. The honor guard accompanying the body here from the Columbus Distribution Center will be T/4 Ralph F. Blank.

Further word concerning the arrival of the body of Cpl. Raymond C. Moll, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Moll of 258 Chestnut street, from the Columbus Depot has not been received by the family as yet. Cpl. Moll was also returned to the United States aboard the Joseph V. Connolly.

Funeral services for Navy man Snyder will be conducted at 1 p. m. Saturday in the Merle H. Hughes mortuary on Mt. Vernon avenue, with Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162, American Legion, in charge of a military funeral. French and Italian Riots Blamed on Reds

By International News Service

PARIS, Nov. 14—The French and Italian governments are preparing today to employ all force necessary to crush Communist-led rioting, which in two days has ravaged a dozen so-called 'Red' cities in two countries.

The disturbances, which resulted in strengthening of army and police garrisons in affected areas, were more widespread today

At least 11 communities have been affected.

Five more Italians were killed last night.

France's disorders thus far have been confined mainly to strike-ridden Marseilles, the country's second largest city. Her port facilities already are 70 per cent paralyzed, and a general strike is threatened.

Italian Interior Minister Mario Scelba served notice on his country's Communists in a heated parliamentary session yesterday that the government is "determined" to restore order.

Mushrooming violence which hit such cities as Milan, Bologna, Venice and Naples prompted Scelba to declare he had "irrefutable facts' showing that the Communists solely are to blame for the riots.

Rioting in Naples

Rioting yesterday in Naples followed trouble in Milan on the previous day Communist union leaders called a mass demonstration "to protest" the Milan disorders. Soon all non-Communist newspapers were seized and burned and Italian "Common Man" and Socialist party headquarters were attacked and destroyed.

Similar attacks on the rightist and congrist party headquarters occurred in La Spezia, Turin, Cassale, Asti.

Other violence erupted in Ferrara, Modena and Reggio. Communist-dominated unions called a general strike in Como province

All this, Scelba indicated, was part of an attempt to block American aid

COMMITTEE TOLD OF KENTON PLANT RAID

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 — A story of destruction by a group of masked men of equipment consigned to the atomic energy commission was unfolded today to a house labor subcommittee by Robert H. Jamison, Cleveland attorney.

Jamison said the equipment was destroyed at the Kenton, O. plant of the North Electric Co., of Galion, which he represents. At the time, he said, the plant was involved in labor difficulties with the United Auto Workers (CIO).

Jamison said the destruction occurred last October a few hours after Edward Duck, an organizer for the union, had told him by telephone on Oct. 21 that "dire consequences" would follow if the company declined to negotiate with the union.

"About 3:30 a. m. the following morning," he told the committee, "I got a call from Harold Burns, vice president of the company, who told me that vandalism had occurred in the Kenton plant.

"He told me that 20 to 30 masked men, wearing gloves, and carrying guns, imprisoned the watchman and proceeded to wreck the plant. They caused damage estimated at $25,000."

BRIGGS SHUTDOWN BRIEF

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Nov. 14—Production was resumed today at the Briggs Manufacturing company's Conner plant with the return to work of nearly two-thirds of the 3,000 employes who staged a one-day walkout Thursday. The Briggs shutdown idled 6,000 Packard Motor Car Co. employes over the weekend.

COOLER WORKERS FAIL TO REPORT

Shop Men Stay Away in Work Week Dispute.

Production was brought to a standstill at the Universal Cooler plant of the International Detroit Corp this morning when approximately 750 workers failed to report.

The situation was said to have been brought about as a result of management and the UAW-CIO failing to agree on the interpretation of a clause in the union contract governing layoffs.

Company officials said they had temporarily laid off a number of employes following a production slip back anticipated during the seasonal lag in refrigeration equipment customarily experienced during November and December.

The UAW maintains that the company should adopt a 32 hour work week instead of the scheduled 40 hour week, to avoid laying off of employes.

It claims that a contract clause provides for a 32 hour week when general business conditions necessitate it. The company interprets the contract clause as applying to general business conditions in respect to the nation's business while the union interprets the clause as applying directly to the Universal Cooler business situation.

The union committee comprising William Everly, president of the Universal Cooler Unit of Local 750 of the UAW, William Darnell, head Steward, and Larry May, secretary, in a series of conferences with the management failed to reach an agreement.

A decision to seek a legal opinion on the interpretation of the words "general business conditions" was agreed upon by both parties. Municipal Judge W. Dexter Hazen was selected by the company, Attorney Thomas C. Fetter by the union and Attorney Russell M. Wilhelm as a third party agreed on by both representatives.

Opinion of the three was said to have been acceptable as the ruling on the clause in connection with the dispute. The panel ruled that "general business conditions" referred to business as a whole rather than to any particular industry.

The group met Thursday, Friday and Sunday before giving an interpretation to both the company and the union on Monday.

C. D. Weary, industrial relations representative for Universal Cooler, withheld comment on the situation.

Union representatives were unavailable for comment, but it was

MOVE TO CHECK LIVING COSTS

Restraint on Profits, Wages and Installment Buying Also Proposed.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14—Voluntary food rationing—with a control law ready for use if such a system fails—was proposed by a congressional body today as one means of combatting the high cost of living.

The senate-house group, headed by Senator Flanders (R-Vt), also called for a reduction in taxes on low-income individuals and voluntary restraints on profits and wage increases, as well as a return to installment buying curbs.

In a report to the joint economic committee headed by Senator Taft (R-Ohio), the Flanders subgroup also said that further investigation is needed of the 40-hour work week, adding

"We often refer to the miracles of production in the war, but they were not accomplished on a 40-hour week. We may be facing the necessity of a temporary increase in the work week if we are to furnish the products required for European relief and reconstruction, without lowering our domestic consumption."

Besides Flanders, Senators Baldwin (R-Conn) and Myer (D-Pa) and Reps Rich (R-Pa), Kilburn (R-NY) and Hart (D-NJ) signed the report

Flanders told reporters in releasing the findings it is his personal opinion that there will have to be a resumption of meat rationing. He contended this would force meat prices down.

Eastern U.S. Surveyed

The subcommittee recommendations, made after an investigation of the cost of living in the eastern part of the United States, are expected to be consolidated with those of committees studying conditions in the central and western areas of the country.

The three may form the basis of a committee study Taft predicted will be ordered by the group after President Truman lays anti-inflation recommendations before the special session of congress starting Monday.

Criticizing the present food saving program directed by Charles Luckman as "illogical and inadequate," the Flanders report said higher-income individuals of families should be urged to cut down their overall consumption of meat, butter, eggs and poultry.

"The low income consumer needs no voluntary rationing," the report said. "He is already being involuntarily rationed (by prices). The higher income consumer can follow the rules given by the Luckman committee literally and faithfully without making any reduction in his total intake of meat and eggs."

Might Become Compulsory

The subcommittee said voluntary rationing should be tried first but added "since it may not work sufficiently quickly or effectively, the congress might well give consideration to setting up the mechanism for limited rationing of important foodstuffs only."

The group said voluntary allocation, as represented by the distillers' agreement to stop grain consumption for 60 days, promised some further success in obtaining grain for Europe, but seemed unlikely to bring down prices.

Contending statutory allocation authority, which Mr. Truman has indicated he will seek, will involve some direct or indirect means of price control, the report added:

"This is the weakness of allocation as we see it."

Pointing to a "submerged group" particularly in the cities, which it said is not getting enough to eat because of high prices, the subcommittee proposed that income tax relief be given to their class by increasing the allowance for dependents.

While the Flanders group called for voluntary restraint on profits and wages, it urged an increase in the present 40-cents-an-hour minimum wage level.

Egg Buying Plan Criticized

The subcommittee criticized as "illogical and harmful" the commodity credit corporation's action in buying up eggs and withdrawing them from the market last July 15. On the other hand, it said that government support of farm prices had increased agricultural production to near maximum levels and probably had helped keep retail prices down that way.

While the Flanders' subcommittee report was largely conciliatory in tone, some other Republicans furnished fresh evidence of an impending clash with the administration over cost of living measures and tax reduction.

Rep. Reader (R-Ohio) sharpened this issue by calling for a $5,000,000,000 to $10,000,000,000

GIRL INJURED IN HOME BREAK

In Escape Attempt Falls Over Cliff Near O'Shaughnessy Dam.

A girl who temporarily escaped from the girls' industrial school near Delaware last night fell from a cliff and was injured after breaking away from officers who tried to apprehend her, The Associated Press reported today.

The girl, Marie Zachary, 17, of Cleveland, suffered severe body cuts and a possible fractured back in an escape attempt with three other girls. She was removed to the institution hospital after capture

Matron of the institution, Mrs Byers, called the state highway patrol in Columbus at 8 p m last night informing them of the escape of four Negro girls and said she was going out to look for them.

At 8 32 she called the patrol from Dublin saying she had found the girls but couldn't capture all of them alone

A patrol car from Worthington came to her aid and picked up three of the girls and Mrs Byers, and later found the other girl who had fallen down a deep cliff and crawled to a nearby house in an attempt to escape

The cliff is between Dublin and O'Shaughnessy dam about a mile south of the dam.

The three other girls who had fled from the institution were identified by the state patrol as Dorothy Robinson, 16, and Geraldine Dozier, 18, both of Cleveland, and Alphenia Williams, 15, of Cincinnati. All were returned to the institution.

SAY MEYERS PLAYED HIGH STAKE POKER

BULLETIN.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14—Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers said today he had asked the U. S. Army for a court-martial to establish his innocence or guilt as to alleged procurement irregularities.

His action came as Lawrence D. Bell, president of Bell Aircraft Corp., testified today at the Hughes hearing his firm awarded $1,053,000 worth of wartime subcontracts to an Ohio company which Maj. Gen. Meyers told him was owned by Meyers' friends.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 — Questions about poker games for $3,000 stakes came up today in the senate inquiry into financial affairs of wartime air force purchasing officers.

Maj. Gen. Junius W. Jones, inspector for the air forces, was in the witness chair of the senate war investigating subcommittee.

Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich) asked Jones if he had not heard reports that Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers "played for stakes in poker games as high as $3,000?"

Jones said he had heard rumors about "large poker games" but "not for any specific amounts."

Meyers was wartime deputy chief of air force procurement (purchasing), stationed at Wright Field, Dayton, O.

Ferguson asked Jones if there had not been "quite common

KIWANIANS HEAR CRESTLINE PASTOR

Rev. Rennix Van Scoy, Former Marionite, Is Club Speaker.

Rev. Rennix Van Scoy, a former Marion man and president-elect of the Kiwanis club at Crestline and pastor of the Crestline Trinity Lutheran church, addressed members of the Marion Kiwanis club in their weekly luncheon Thursday at Hotel Harding.

His talk dealt with the Armistice day program and the work of the church committee in Kiwanis, since one objective of Kiwanis is to develop spiritual aims in support of churches.

Rev. Van Scoy stated that peace will come only when men have Christ in their hearts, and explained this with a text from the Bible, "As man thinks in his heart, so is he." He further explained that causes of war could be defined in two ways, 1) desires, which might comprise land, power, supremacy or wealth, with the Bible solution as "Thou shalt not covet," and 2) differences, which might be politics, race and creed, with the Bible solution to this problem as "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

He complimented the Marion club on the part it has taken in the last year in church activities, and stated that the activities sponsored by the club have received statewide recognition.

Rev. Van Scoy was introduced by Rev. M. E. Hollensen, pastor of Emanuel Lutheran church here, and the program was in charge of the church committee, Dr. G. G. Neutzel, chairman.

A report was made on the progress by the Kiwanis club in the cleanup campaign of the Community Chest by Ralph Carhart. He urged that persons who have not completed their check should do so in the near future.

Guests were Frank Hamilton and William Freck of Marion, Craig M. Rogers, county commander of the American Legion and a member of Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162, and John Moore, commander of Bird-McGinnis Post, both of Marion, Carl Whiteman had William E. Shaper, both of Cincinnati.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

GRAIN SAVING SUGGESTION

Editor of The Star: We American folks are asked to save on all grain. Really didn't get started in the right way. I will always say, get rid of all the mice and rats as possible and I am sure we would save twice the amount of grain saved today.

I would suggest putting a bounty on each mouse and rat, groundhog or anything that takes away a large amount of grain that we folks are asked to save. Our country would still have our usual amount for bread, etc., without skimping. I haven't read in any paper anywhere of getting rid of what is really taking away more grain than folks eat. I suggest we get rid of these rodents first, at once.

This grain saving got a start just like trying to start an auto or tractor without putting in the right fuel first. In all business the right thing must be done first. Just give a thought to each thing you do in a day and it must have the right kind of a start. School children always held pest hunts but I don't hear or read about them any more. Probably no bounty any more to interest them. So it drops right there. I think the pest hunt could be brought back again and really pay. All I ask is cooperation and make it really hot for these hungry rodents. It has been in my mind ever since President Truman asked that everyone save grain whereever possible. I just waited to see if someone would say something ahead of me. May I ask if someone has some estimated figures on grain losses caused by rodents?

Parents Blame Own Failures On Schools, P.-T.A. Head Says

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14—Mrs. Louis Hughes, president of the National Parent-Teacher association, charged American parents yesterday with blaming their own failures and negligence on schools and teachers.

Mrs. Hughes also charged that lack of parental interest in school administration is too prevalent and "sometimes lets the schools get into the hands of people who don't have the best interests of the schools at heart."

The white-haired, Arlington, Tenn., matron named the mounting divorce rate, hasty war marriages, general emotional instability and the housing shortage as contributing factors to faulty home-training for children.

She explained: "Parents expect the schools today to do too much and forget that they must do their part to educate their children. Only a limited amount of education is acquired in the schools.

Where Development Comes

"A child's personality, habits of thinking, his emotional, spiritual and physical equipment are developed almost entirely outside of the school and in the home.

"Whether parents are conscious of it or not, everything that they do—both good and bad—is a part of the education of their children."

At the same time, Mrs. Hughes made it plain that she believes parents should supervise the schools in which they place their children and exercise close vigilance over the influences and activities there.

She said: "When we turn our children over to a school we turn our most precious possessions over to it. We cannot at that point sit back, take everything that comes and expect everything to turn out all right.

Interest Lacking

"There is an all-too prevalent lack of interest in school administration that sometimes lets the schools get into the hands of people who don't have the best interests of the schools at heart.

"I believe the schools and teachers are doing the best job they can by and large at this time. However, if parents do not approve of school activities or administration or anything else they should get together with other parents and do something about it."

Mrs. Hughes said that too many parents fail to get to school elections or to take part in community activities connected with school administration.

Mrs. Hughes is in Washington to preside over the national board of directors meeting of the P.-T.A.

Agreement Near On Synthetic Rubber Plants

By The Associated Press

BARBERTON, O., Nov. 14—Major rubber companies are getting close to an agreement on disposing of the government's synthetic rubber plants, Rep Shafer (R-Mich) said today as his committee called its first public hearing in Ohio.

"The rubber manufacturers have been far apart on possible government policies," he told a reporter, "but they are beginning to get together on some basic question. We have had real evidence of that spirit in Akron."

Shafer said final hearings will begin Dec. 1 in Washington, with testimony from government agencies and manufacturers.

CALL MARION WOMAN IN SHOOTING INQUEST

Witness to Affray Gave City as Her Home.

A woman who gave her address as Marion was summoned to a coroner's inquest Nov. 24 into a shooting affray at Urbana, Ill., yesterday, according to a United Press dispatch. She is Mrs. Violet McManaway, 22, said to have been a witness to the shooting in which one was seriously wounded and one killed.

A check of records here, however, failed to reveal any present or former Marion resident by that name.

The shooting occurred last night when a 24-year-old blond shot her former husband in the back and then killed herself on the steps of a tavern at Urbana, police reports here disclosed today.

Police Chief Harmon Harley said the shooting followed an argument between Russell Thomas, 30, and his divorced wife, Irene. The couple was divorced last March.

Thomas was in "favorable condition" at a hospital after the bullet was removed from his back today.

Harley said he had learned that the couple had been dating each other since their divorce. (Doctors described the former Mrs. Thomas as five months pregnant).

State's Attorney John J. Bresee said that a witness, Jean Grimsey, 21, quoted Mrs Thomas as saying "I am going to kill him tonight," a short time before the shooting.

Bresee said that Thomas, Miss Grimsey and Mrs. McManaway were seated in a booth when Mrs. Thomas came into the tavern.

Mrs. Thomas sat down with them and they talked for a while. When they started to leave she called Thomas a "double crosser" and a "two-timer" and asked "what about the baby?"

Thomas reportedly replied that he would pay doctor and hospital bills and asked: "What more do you want?"

Mrs. McManaway started out the door, followed by Thomas. As they stepped to the street, Mrs. Thomas pulled the gun from her purse and fired, Bresee said.

After hitting Thomas she ran out on the steps, fired several more times and then shot herself in the breast.

O. H. Ellis, who was standing at the bar, was struck in the arm by one of the bullets. He said that a beer glass was shot out of his hand. Hospital authorities said that the wound was not serious.

ACADEMY, AUXILIARY HOLD JOINT MEETING

Columbus Minister Speaks at Dinner at Hotel.

At a joint dinner meeting of the Marion County Academy of Medicine and the Ladies' auxiliary Thursday night at Hotel Harding, guest speaker was Dr. Floyd Foust, pastor of the Broad Street Church of Christ in Columbus. His subject was "Fit for Freedom."

Dr. M. F. Axthelm opened the meeting then turned procedure over to Mrs. Richard Morgan who introduced Mrs. H. K. Mouser as president of the Ohio medical auxiliary organization, and Mrs. Jack Smyth, program chairman. The program was opened with a piano duet by Mrs. J. F. Lacey and Mrs. Mouser.

Dr. Foust declared that "America is the last outpost of freedom of the world," and that "shadows are deepening now around the Statue of Liberty. He said that "the trouble with Americans is that we are individualists," that this characteristic needs discipline of the "old fashioned" kind, that "homes are in danger of being broken up because of domestic racketeering" which he illustrated as a form of selfishness. and finally he stressed that "it is high time we became more interested in the basic things of life," of which he termed the home the basic institution.

It was announced that a sewing meeting of the auxiliary will be held Dec. 13 in the home of Mrs. Fillmore Young. Ambulance slippers will be made for City hospital.

Mrs. Florence May Salter Fiant, daughter of Charles Salter and Lucinda Ault Salter, was born in Marion county July 4, 1873. Departed this life November 7, 1947 in Cardington, Ohio, at the age of 74 years, 4 months and 3 days.

Early in life she was converted and joined the Salem Evangelical church, to which she remained a member until death. March 31, 1891 she was united in marriage with William H. Fiant. To this union were born seven children.

She leaves to mourn her departure three sons and three daughters, Harry and Edgar of Cardington, Ohio, Mrs. Virginia Ebert of Springfield, Ohio, Marlow of Marion, Ohio, Mrs. Hael Wilcox of Galion, Ohio, Mrs. Irene Primmer of Cardington, Ohio; nine grandchildren and four great-grandchildren; one brother, M. B. Salter of North Lawrence, Ohio; other relatives and many, many friends.

She was a faithful wife, a loving mother, and a friend to all who knew her.

Then be content, poor heart,
God's plans like lilies pure and white unfold.
We must not tear the close shut leaves apart,
Time will reveal the calyxes of gold.
And if we through patient toil reach the land
Where tired feet with sandals loosed may rest,
When we shall clearly see and understand,
I think that we shall say "God knew best."

SUNBURY MAYOR HEARD ON TRAIN DISCONTINUANCE

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 14—Opponents of abandonment by the Pennsylvania railroad of two passenger trains between Columbus and Akron today planned a second day of testimony before trial examiner Thomas Maxson of the state public utilities commission.

Opposition to the railroad's petition for abandonment is led by the railroad brotherhoods and communities served by the trains, No. 624 and No. 625.

Mayor Hoyt G. Whitney of Sunbury, O., yesterday told Maxson trucks could not provide the same "year-round service as trains" in a day-long session which saw witnesses declare the abandonment would cripple service to shippers and cause industrial hardships.

Name Your Figure

THE committee for economic development, which does about the heaviest thinking on matters of finance of any group in the country, including the department of treasury and the U.S congress, says the tax load can be lightened by six billion dollars next year.

Other estimates will range from somewhat less than that all the way down to nothing at all. There are some people who would like to see taxes increased—on the other fellow. Such people do not share in any degree the advanced thought of the committee for economic development.

It is the thought, in contrast to the old-world method of sweating exorbitant taxes out of the public to support pap-sucking governments, that taxation is the source of public income, to be used with a view to the greatest good for the greatest number. Thus, taxation should be used in all cases to encourage development of ever greater sources of public income, never to discourage them, which was the negative approach of the New Deal.

In the present instance, taxation should be used to assure continuous growth of business enterprise and to keep as many citizens as possible from being shoved to the wall. To that end, one group says there should be a reduction of six billion dollars next year. Another group would have a different figure, no doubt. The important thing at the moment is that the enlightened purpose of taxation in modern times is to preserve, not to destroy.

Hit 'Em Where It Hurts

WALTER REUTHER'S crowd in UAW has hit that powerful union's Red sympathizers where it hurts—in the key offices they hold. If it's really true that Reuther intends to clean up his union, he has the right idea.

No leader or follower of the Red conspiracy in this country can do any harm outside of the key offices that are their ultimate goal. They have nothing to sell to the general public. Their strategy is to get control of the strategic places from which they can dictate the policies they cannot expect to sell to the American public.

The way to paralyze their conspiracy, therefore, is to rout them out of all positions of influence. The federal government is undertaking that momentous task as far as its employes are concerned. It may be taken for granted the moving picture industry will clean house. The labor unions can do it with the assistance of the Taft-Hartley act, wherever their executives dare to invoke all the powers of that public law.

The United States has little to fear from its Red conspirators if they can be kept out of positions of influence. As mere salesmen of the shabby and outworn ideology of communism, the Reds are their own worst enemies because the longer they talk the more confused and insincere they prove themselves to be.

The Nobel Prize Winner

AWARD of the 1947 Nobel prize for literature to France's Andre Gide marks the seventh time a Frenchman has received the award since Prudhomme was the first winner in 1901. Other French recipients have included Anatole France, Henri Bergson and Roger Martin du Gard.

A Protestant writer in a Catholic country, Gide often has been the center of controversy. Edmund Gosse, his early sponsor in England and the United States, summarized his appeal by saying, "there is something northern about his genius, which loves to cultivate caprices and the twilight hours."

While Gide is better known in the United States than last year's winner, Chile's Gabriela Mistral, his American fame is confined principally to scholars and readers of the so-called "little" magazines. His "journals," the most recent volume of which appeared in America this year, are bringing additional American renown but he never will be an author with wide appeal for Americans.

Locomotive for Poland

NEWS photographers show 29 new locomotives being hoisted aboard ships for delivery to Poland, a country no longer safe for believers in the democratic way of life.

Our state department talks of stopping Russia with the Marshall plan, yet approves shipment of heavy machinery beyond the iron curtain. Poland is a slave state and what we ship there will help tighten the Communist grip, just as our shipments of planes and food to Tito strengthened that arrogant dictator's hand.

Couldn't these locomotives and other American supplies destined for Russia or Russian satellites serve our cause better if they went to France, Italy, Greece and Britain? Or are the locomotives going to speed up the Polish transportation system, the better to hasten refugees from Communist tyranny?

"God Save the King" is the only anthem that has official sanction in Canada, although "The Maple Leaf Forever" is sometimes called the national anthem.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

Taft's View: "Give What We Can Afford To Give."

SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT, chairman of the Republican policy committee and presidential candidate, has oined the debate on the Marshall plan. But he does not nop on the bandwagon. He asks questions and formulates a policy which may be stated simply: we give what we can afford to give. If we give more than we can afford to give, we must ultimately damage ourselves as well as the beneficiary.

And he raises the question of taxes. What right has Speaker Joe Martin or anybody else to decline to consider the problem of taxes when that is actually the most important issue before the American people today? For we, as a people, are being squeezed between high taxes and high prices until our standard of living is constantly being lowered. This is due to government policy which stimulates prices, produces shortages, exports abroad material ersential for home consumption and then shouts, "Stop inflation!" Taft challenges the administration's dictum that the individual American is not to be trusted with his own money.

Geo. E. Sokolsky

Taft said before the Ohio society:

"If we want the Marshall plan, we cannot have lower prices. If we want lower prices, we have to give up the Marshall plan. The Marshall plan may be worth the cost, but let's be realistic and face the fact that there is a cost."

Action Ahead

Taft's view means that there will be a fight in the senate over costs as there will be a fight in both the house and the senate over the method of aid. There will be no smooth sailing. Senator Taft not only feels that the Marshall figure is too high but that the Harriman figure, which is lower, is too high. And that raises another question, namely, why cannot the administration present a single plan with a table of costs? So far there have been four separate administration reports: the Krug, the Nourse, the Harriman and the Marshall reports in that order, and on Monday, President Truman speaks. When these various documents are read in relation to the Bevin report, which is the overall European (16 to 1) statement, the confusion grows so confounded and complex that nobody can make head or tail as to precisely how much is involved and by what method it is to be spent, and who is to do the spending.

Takes Sound Stand

That, in effect, is the issue that Senator Taft raises. He does not reject aid, but he feels that the American people are entitled to know all the facts and to understand and approve all the methods. Furthermore, he wants to be sure that this crescendo of propaganda is designed to aid Europe and Asia and not to impose additional but silly controls on the American people. The Nourse report was unbelievably stupid, for it would control one commodity but not its related commodity, which means that while, let us say, wheat disappears from the market because it is controlled, the price of corn skyrockets because it is not controlled. The Nourse plan not only guarantees a black market (sometimes called a grey market) for scarce materials but it defeats itself by stimulating inflation. Harriman goes along with Nourse a little way but not very far. His remarks on the subject were carefully ambiguous.

Some Propaganda

Incidentally, I want to refer to a telegram which Henry L. Stimson sent confidentially to what seems to be hundreds of persons. Four copies of this confidential document lie on my desk sent me for publication. This is a high-powered propaganda document which must have cost plenty to send out and, curiously enough, Mr. Stimson offers to pay the cost of each recipient's reply. Referring to the Marshall plan, the Stimson telegram says:

". . . We must take part in this work; we must take our full part; we must be sure that we do enough. We should act quickly. The penalty of delay in reconstruction is to increase the size of the job and to multiply difficulties. We require a prompt and large-scale program . . ."

Do you remember the hysterical propaganda for the British loan? The words were almost the same. Bob Taft can report that he was not sucked into that dishonesty.

Filling Stations For Automobiles Only

The American Automobile Association is asking all states to outlaw the sale of liquor at filling stations.

What, and do away with all those signs along roadside: Ethyl 23 a gallon, Gin $2.89 a fifth?

Whose idea is this anyway, the AAA's . . . or just the AA's?

What will become of all the super service stations, who have built a thriving business offering a wash-job, oil-change and old-fashioned at a special combination rate?

They'll still be able to sell alcohol, all right. But only as antifreeze

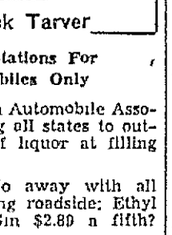
As a matter of fact, it's undeniably a good suggestion. The highways would be a lot more safe if only the cars were lubricated.

Peace With Western Germany

By Raymond Moley

THE current series of meetings of the deputies of the foreign ministers in London could hardly begin under more discouraging circumstances. Only chronic optimists expect anything but failure.

This time, there seems to be a determination on the part of the United States and Britain to make a separate peace with western Germany and to set up a responsible government there. It is taken for granted that France will join in this move.



Raymond Moley

The practical means to set up such a government already exist. The Big Four at Potsdam agreed to set up governments in the various German states. This has been done in western zones. So the heads of those states need only assemble and choose a president of western Germany, and the authority will be established to sign a peace treaty.

Russians Won't Like It

Undoubtedly, the Soviet government will dislike such a step and will use every means to delay it. But Soviet opposition can hardly prevent it. Russia can hardly wage a war, should these western German states and their president sign an agreement with the western powers. Former Secretary Byrnes predicts that the Russians will argue at length and then give in. They will accept the inevitable and then try to make the most favorable settlement from their point of view.

It has been increasingly clear in the past two years that the strongest reason why the Russians have delayed a German peace is the advantage gained by keeping German prisoners in Russia. The number held there and the nature of their activity is not clear. The Soviet government says the number of German prisoners held by them is less than a million. Germans maintain that the number is much larger, because hundreds of thousands of German civilians have been deported for political reasons.

Worth Holding

But if we assume that the number of Germans in Russia is 1,000,000, it is easy to see why the Soviet government is anxious to hold the mas long as possible. Those Germans, on average, are much more skilled than eastern European workers. Economists familiar with the situation say that the yield of a German worker in Russia is the equivalent of about $1,000 a year. That means a minimum value of $1,000,000,000 a year. Considering that the number held in 1945 and 1946 was considerably larger than now, it can be assumed that Russia has collected $3,000,000,000 from this indirect form of reparations. And considering the mess that the Russians have made of the machinery they have moved, this labor is about all they have collected.

Molotov will, of course, demand some form of compensation before these Germans are sent home. He well knows that, aside from the humanitarian aspects of the case, there is a strong economic need for their return. Lack of manpower is a great handicap to German recovery.

Possibility of Loan

A suggestion has been made that a loan might be granted to Russia for the return of these prisoners, this loan to be repaid by Germany out of the product of the labor of the returned prisoners. The strained situation which now exists may deter the United States from such a step. But it would probably be accepted by Russia.

In any event, the restoration of Germany to political autonomy is essential to the great task of economic recovery. Otherwise, the Marshall plan can hardly succeed.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

President Truman will deliver his program for European aid, price control, high cost of living and inflation in 20 to 25 minutes Monday . . . Part of it in Robert L. Ripley's radio time.

* * *

Then Ripley will come on and try to top it.

* * *

Portia faces life 15 minutes every day and doesn't get half her problems solved and it takes Benny 20 minutes just to get all the tobacco auctioneers introduced.

* * *

Any man who can wrap up European aid, price control, high cost of living and inflation in 20 to 25 minutes should have all of Ripley's time.

* * *

The President's speech will be in two parts and if Europe can't be saved in 10 minutes we'll try a 15 minute program later.

Controls Are Off, But—!

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, Nov. 14, 1937.

More than 400 members, former members and friends attended the centennial celebration held by the Methodist church congregation at Prospect. Miss Leona Cratty, '91, of Delaware, a former member, was a guest of honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Harden observed their golden wedding anniversary with a family dinner at their home on Charles street.

Seven charter members of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church were present at celebration of the 35th anniversary of the dedication of the church. They were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Augenstein, Mrs. M. B. Augenstein, Mrs. Sophia Stark, John Mochel and Harry and Mel Strine.

Marion's first snowfall of any consequence fell, melting as it fell. Temperatures dropped 26 degrees from a high of 59 as the snow fell but remained above freezing. The low was 33.

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Sager of Woodrow avenue and their house guests, Mrs. Sager's sisters, Mrs. Leland Brown of Cleveland, Mrs. F. L. Hoerle of Lorain and Mrs. Ethel Wise of Morral were guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Sager of Van Wert.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Monday, Nov. 14, 1927.

It was announced that congress would make a Christmas present to 137 cities throughout the country of a $20,000,000 appropriation bill for new public buildings, additions or sites, under plans being formulated by Republican leaders of the house.

H. H. Sears, 60, mayor of Harpster, banker and business man, died at his home.

Mrs. F. B. Klinefelter was elected president of the Pleasant Farm Women's club at the home of Mrs. Walter Bailey on the Prospect pike. Mrs. Jay Vaughan and Mrs. Dale Lawrence were assistant hostesses.

Henry B. Hane was elected president and Miss Mary B. Kelly executive secretary at the annual meeting of the board of directors of the Marion Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Hal Berringer entertained with a miscellaneous shower at her home on West Church street for the pleasure of Mrs. Theodore Johnson, formerly Miss Helen Smith.

Rain and colder was the weather prediction for Marionites. The mercury's high reading was 71 with a drop of 55.

In a Ruined City

By Joseph Alsop

BERLIN

AMONG these ruins, the political realities of our world seem more solid and tangible than the people who walk the streets like tired ghosts. Berlin is the final symbol of the destruction wrought by the second World War. And in Berlin, more than in any other city of Europe, there is no concealment of the central post-war fact. Instead of a world at peace, the war has left the world divided into two mutually hostile camps.

To be sure, the foreign ministers of the wartime grand alliance—Marshall and Molotov, Bevin and Bidault—will shortly gather in London to discuss a German peace settlement. But, barring the miracle of a complete reversal of Soviet policy, the London meeting can only end in stalemate.

Joseph Alsop

A stalemate in London will, in turn, produce an immediate and unavoidable result. Germany will be divided. Thus Europe will be divided, along the line of the frontier of the east-west zones of Germany, the Czechoslovak border, the frontier of the east-west zones of Austria, and the border of the Yugoslav and Anglo-American zones of Trieste. And thus, the world will also be divided, with the lines fully drawn between the two competing systems except in the far East. The inevitability of this tragic outcome is openly acknowledged here.

Lively Contest Coming

At London of course, both the Soviet and the Western leaders will maneuver frantically, each trying to lay upon the shoulders of the other the responsibility for Germany's division. The Soviets are so anxious to stand forth as the champions of German unity that Marshal Sokolovsky has told his German stooges Molotov will propose immediate termination of the Allied occupation of Germany. Molotov may not actually go so far. But the main point is that these maneuvers will be entirely for the record—for German consumption in fact.

Here in Berlin the hollowness of the London proceedings is being acknowledged in advance. While the Soviets and the western powers continue to give lip service to German unity, both sides are already preparing for the organization of Germany in two parts.

The Soviet plans can of course only be guessed at, but there is strong evidence that they will emphasize a highly nationalistic appeal. The Soviets here have not concealed their angry disappointment, caused by the failure of the Socialist Unity party (the stooge party formed by forced merger of Communists and east zone Socialists) to win any German mass following. Thus the chances are that the Socialist Unity party will be pushed aside. The new Russian front in the east zone will then be constructed from the wartime Free Germany movement, the German soldiers, officers and generals who were captured by the Soviets.

Refuse To Free Prisoners

Field Marshall von Paulus, who with Field Marshal von Seydlitz has been most conspicuous in the movement, was brought to Berlin to lay the groundwork this summer. The Soviets still retain approximately two million German prisoners (unless the death rate has been almost incredibly high.) They have persistently refused to release prisoners of important rank.

They have actually rounded up and taken to Russia German officers and generals released by the Western allies. One known trainload included 30 Wehrmacht generals and 420 officers.

It is entirely probable that these men are employed to lead a German army being organized and trained on Soviet soil. It is almost certain that they will also provide the human material for a new "national front" into which the wretched Socialist Unity party will be merged. It is expected that von Paulus and von Seydlitz will play the role of elder statesmen, while the active leadership of the "national front" will be conferred on some such figure as General Arno von Lerski. There are also reports that the Soviets will provide right-wing competition for their "national front" in the form of a burghers' party headed by their aged hireling, Dr. Kurlz of the Liberal party. Thus the facade of the old Germany will be complete.

Only One Way

Simultaneously, the English and Americans, who cannot employ German stooges, have been forced to prepare plans for a provisional government of western Germany. Even if Germany is to be divided, there is no way to avoid disaster, except to give the Germans of the west zones responsibility for the reconstruction of their shattered land. It is academic to talk of any other expedient. And the time for academic theorizing is now long past.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The Flower Show "Fix"

The "fix" has now turned up in the strange of events, a flower show. In London the ex day bookmakers, driven out of sports, took to on flower show entries and "doped" a chrysanthemum exhibit.

* * *

The exhibitor was one of the top chrysanthemum men of England and had a flower that is the public choice, so to speak. The crooks crept into his hothouse in the night and poisoned the blooms that were to go to the post. It just goes to show what a dishonest world we are living.

* * *

No geranium is safe. Not a magnolia bush immune from the sure thing boys. A carnation may seem in the pink, as it were, and be a hollow shell, due to tampering.

* * *

Elmer Twitchell, the well known horticulturist, came out today with a warning that the flower "fix" is not limited to the British Isles. "I had a tea rose entered in an American Flower Show," he declared. "On past performances, it couldn't miss first money. It wilted as soon as the gate was sprung. The dopers had been at work."

* * *

"Then there was the case of the hopped up petunia," Mr. Twitchell went on. "It was known as the Regal Queen Petunia and had never been defeated. It was such a standout that all but two other petunia owners scratched their entries. The price was knocked down to 2 to 5 and, when the bugle blew, Regal Queen was found to be droopy to compete!

* * *

Elmer insists that he knows of one case where at a big flower show in this country, an enemy garden exhibit, was given a mickey finn. At 5 p. m. on the night before the judgings, the garden was in perfect shape and an easy winner. At 8 the next morning not a crocus could lift its head and the gladioli were out on their feet.

Who's your straight man, mister?

No Idle Moments

By Truman Twill

On days when the world seems to be sodden with ladies worrying over their figures—and we don't mean arithmetic—memories of Aunt Lu are hard to put out of mind.

She never worried about her figure. At 5 a. m. she climbed out of bed, slapped on her morning dress and beat it to the kitchen to start a fire in the wood-burning cook-stove. She had brought in the wood the night before and had chopped the kindling herself, to make sure it was the right size.

While the fire was getting started, she ground the coffee in a box she held in her lap. This was excellent for conditioning the shoulders. She put on the coffee to boil, carved off a half dozen slices of ham, shuffled it around in a cast-iron skillet, broke in a dozen eggs, beat up the batter for the flapjacks, primed the pump to get fresh drinking water, stirred the rest of the family out of their nests and, one way and another, got a new day started.

Breakfast over, she fed the chickens, pailed six cows, lugged the milk to the separator, took her turn at the handle of that infernal machine, helped carry the skim milk to the pig trough, set the cream to cool, took apart the separator, washed it in scalding water—and by that time except for rainy days in summer and tough days in winter, she was ready to help with the heavy work around the place, such as getting in the hay, shocking wheat, hoeing potatoes, hilling up the corn, weeding the kitchen garden, shelling corn, or mowing the lawn, if work happened to be light that day.

She did all the cleaning, baking, washing, ironing, sewing. She hoofed it a quarter of a mile to get the mail. She thought nothing of walking half a mile to get cows out of the pasture. She could harness a horse, butcher a hog, decapitate a chicken, shovel snow, spade a garden, tinker a stove, handle a swarm of bees, or kick the daylights out of an obstreperous cow without raising more than a ladylike sweat.

She cooked the best meals human beings ever ate, baked the best cookies, boiled down the best preserves, made the best butter and sewed as straight a seam as anybody in that part of the country. She was handy with pitchforks, hay forks, farm machinery, medicinal herbs, mops, brooms, butcher knives and hammers.

In a long lifetime, she never gave a thought to her figure. She did not worry about her diet or what she was doing with her life. It would be a privilege to say her figure was perfect and her life was happy, but they weren't. She looked like an animated but badly constructed scarecrow and used to complain every hour on the hour that fate had played a dirty trick on her—and it had.

Cancer Care

By International News Service

STOCKHOLM, SWEDEN—American cancer research recently has attracted considerable attention in Sweden because of the public clinics in the United States where people are examined regularly once or twice a year. This examination is given even if a person shows no symptoms of the disease. According to the Swedish newspaper, "Morgon-Tidnigen," this system soon will be introduced in Sweden. To begin with, 200 workers near an industrial plant at Stockholm will be submitted to regular examinations.

Next Issue of "Quaker" Carries Article on City of Marion

The November issue of the Quaker Oats Co. publication, "The [illegible]" scheduled to come off the presses within the next week contains a neat plug for the city of Marion.

The article is the second in a series about "the dozen pleasant cities and towns from coast to coast in which our plants are located," an introduction to the story says.

The Quaker Oats Co. opened a plant in Marion last year for the production of Ken-L-Ration, a dog food.

The article, written by an associate editor of the publication, Edna Verity, gives a brief and interesting sketch of the history and development of the community which "grew from a country crossroads to a city of many industries whose products are nationally and internationally known."

Three cuts accompanying the article which follows show photos of power shovels in operation, President Harding's home and the building which houses The Marion Star. The article follows:

"In the very heart of beautiful Ohio is a city that figures in Quaker history of recent years. That city is Marion, home of our second Ken-L-Products plant.

"Best known as the birthplace of President Warren G. Harding, Marion has several other claims to fame—less spectacular claims, perhaps, but equally as interesting.

"For instance, Marion is known as the "shovel city of the world." It was in 1874 that the first steam shovel was manufactured here, prompting the unusual nickname.

"The city itself was founded in 1820 by one Eber Baker. Both the county and the village were named for General Francis Marion, the "Swamp Fox" of Revolutionary War fame.

"There was practically no manufacturing in Marion during its early days. Even by 1846, the town boasted only one saw mill and one carding mill. It was not until 1863 that a local man invented a revolving hay rake—the beginning of an important industry for Marion.

"With the founding of industries and the building of railroads, Marion grew from a country crossroads to a city of many industries whose products are nationally and internationally known.

"Located in Marion is the largest—and doubtless the only—sulky factory in the western hemisphere. Many of the city's 38,000 residents are racing fans, with the result that Marion is usually rated second only to Lexington, Ky., as a "horse town."

"Here—in a few words—is the story of Marion. Served by four major railroads, this Quaker community is the hub of a 500-mile circle embracing 75 per cent of the industrial activity in the country and 50 per cent of its population.

sggestwoknowngn.li Wufc' 4-

"Quaker considered these facts when we settled in Marion in 1946, purchasing a deserted plant that was an eyesore to the community. Since that time, the plant has been completely rebuilt, and is now a modern, attractive building. Our stay in Marion has been pleasant, both as to living and working conditions. We hope to continue to grow with the community.

"Sharing in the Marion industrial scene, Quaker products take a place with such manufactured goods as power shovels and cranes, road rollers, agricultural implements, air conditioning units, castings, steel products, treated lumber, sulkies, soybean products and other foodstuffs. All these industries are important to this thriving Ohio community."

Miss Mary Jane Ettore, daughter of Mrs. Salvatore Urso of 726 Silver street, became the bride Saturday in St. Mary Catholic church of Robert L. DeConnich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo G. DeConnich of Columbus. Very Rev. William J. Spickerman, V. F., was celebrant for the nuptial high mass. White mums in gold vases and lighted candles decorated the church. The traditional wedding marches were played at the organ, and singing was by the St. Mary choir.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her step-father, Salvatore Urso, was attired in a gown of white chiffon velvet styled with a sheer yoke edged with a deep bertha of rose point lace. The long tight sleeves ended in points over the hands, and the skirt extended into a long cathedral train. Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Painful Disease of the Hands.

Raynaud's disease is a strange disorder affecting, chiefly, the blood vessels of the hands.

Attacks, which are usually brought on by exposure to cold, begin with a spasm of the blood vessels, so severe that all blood to the hands is cut off, with the result that they become dead white, numb and stiff.

On exposure to warmth, the skin becomes bluish and, finally, after a varying period of time, redness develops, indicating that blood vessels are then as relaxed as they had been constricted before.

Along with the returning circulation, there is a burning or throbbing sensation. Ordinarily, the bright pink, noticed toward the end of an attack, gradually fades to the normal skin color and, as a general rule, patients are normal and free from discomfort between attacks.

The exact cause of this disorder is not known but it occurs much more frequently in women than in men.

The extent of involvement varies in different patients. For example, in some cases only one hand may be affected, and, in others, both hands and both feet.

It has been found that many of the patients who have Raynaud's disease are subject to emotional upsets, and such emotional upsets may occasionally tend to bring on an attack. However, these emotional disturbances are less important in men than in women.

Unfortunately, no very successful treatment for Raynaud's disease has, as yet, been found. However, there are some measures which appear to be definitely helpful. These include the stopping of smoking, attempts to control the emotions, and living in a warm climate.

If the condition becomes quite severe and there are frequent attacks, an operation known as sympathectomy is carried out. In this operation, the nerves to the blood vessels are cut. This, in turn, tends to relieve the blood vessel spasms. It is found that when this operation is done, the attacks are promptly and completely relieved.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

D. E.: Is it serious when there is a continuous numbness and tingling feeling in one arm?

Answer: The numbness and tingling might be due to some disturbance of the circulation, or to some disorder affecting the nerves which come from the spinal cord and go to the arm.

A vitamin deficiency, particularly of vitamin "B1", might be a contributory cause. Until the cause is found, it would be impossible to determine whether or not the condition is serious.

MORNING TIDE BARS "BATTLE OF NEWARK"

(Picture on Page 2)

By The Associated Press

NEWARK, Nov. 14—The heralded engagement between the battleship New Mexico and Newark's "squirt-gun navy" was postponed today after the decommissioned dreadnaught arrived outside the harbor three hours behind schedule, too late for the morning tide.

The Coast Guard reported that the towing company whose tugs are bringing the venerable vessel into port said the ship now is due to enter the harbor on tomorrow morning's tide.

At 6:33 a. m., a spokesman for the towing company said, the 30,000-ton New Mexico stood five miles southeast of Ambrose channel lightship, in tow of two tugs. She had been scheduled to reach the lightship at 5 a. m., but her progress was hampered by strong headwinds during the night.

The New Mexico was to have arrived at the entrance to Newark bay at 8:30 a. m., high tide, where she was to negotiate a difficult 120-degree turn into the channel of the bay.

H-hour had been scheduled for 10.15 a. m. today.

The tiny defending force, two 30-foot fire launches armed with chemical sprays and fire hoses, manned "battle stations" at dawn, determined to prevent the decommissioned dreadnaught from keeping its rendezvous with a Newark scrapyard which city officials say she must not reach at any cost.

Mayor Vincent J. Murphy declared war on the 33,000-ton "New Mex" Armistice day, ordering the fireboats to patrol the bay channel and block the entry of the once gallant flagship of the Pacific Fifth fleet. Officials have ordered that no more ships be junked within the city.

As a prelude to the engagement, Newark was under heavy bombardment from many sources yesterday. The state of New Mexico entered the fray with an avalanche of outraged telegrams. A New Jersey naval hero, Adm. William (Bull) Halsey, a native of nearby Elizabeth, refused his services and the opposition, in a surprise move, bolstered its ranks with the addition of nine tugs to the three already escorting the New Mexico.

"We're heading right for port Newark and that blockade we've been reading so much about," Walter P. Meseck, president of the Towing company, said last night in a defiance pre-battle communique. "Those little boats had better run for cover when we get there, too."

39 HURT AS FLASH FIRE HITS BUILDING

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 14—Thirty-nine persons were injured, two critically, in a fierce explosion—punctuated flash fire that swept the sprawling Recreation bowling building last night.

Several hours after the fire had been controlled, Eugene A. Nocente, 17, a bus boy at a steak house in the building, was reported missing by his father. Police said, however, they had been informed he had been seen outside the structure during the blaze.

RIOTING

Ramadier promised the national assembly that "severe punishment" would be meted out to Communist instigators of the Marseille rioting which brought death to at least one person and injuries to scores of others.

Angrily shouting down Communist deputies, Ramadier—who left a sickbed to attend the session—declared:

"You are attacking with violence. We will defend the republic against you

"If you want a dictatorship, we will fight."

Deputies in Uproar

Ramadier's declaration created an uproar in which all deputies participated, the non-communists trying to shout down denunciations by the Communists.

Francois Billoux, former defense minister and a Communist French rally movement" of Charles De Gaulle started the Marseille trouble.

The Communist - dominated charged that "gangsters of the French Confederation of Labor (C.G.T.) this morning voted re-European aid.

knowledge around Wright field and the office (in AAF Washington headquarters) that Meyers was doing a lot of speculation?"

"No, sir," Jones replied. "I knew he had some money."

Jones said Meyers was regarded as more wealthy than most generals and had "I imagine $100,000."

The committee developed testimony yesterday that Meyers reported to a superior in February, 1943, that he held no aviation company stocks, but actually had 2,700 shares in seven companies.

Ferguson commented then that it was a crime for an Army purchasing officer to own an interest in a firm with which he was dealing. He said statutes provide punishment up to two years' imprisonment.

It also was developed that the war department received an anonymous letter saying Meyers had made $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 out of the war, but that no investigation was made.

RETAIL FOOD PRICES REACH RECORD HIGH

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14—Retail food prices in September hit a record high, sending the cost of living up another two per cent for moderate-income families, the bureau of labor statistics reported today.

Preliminary estimates placed the consumers' price index at a peak of about 164 per cent of the 1935-39 average.

The September index is 12 per cent higher than a year ago, 23 per cent above June, 1946, when most OPA controls were abandoned, and 66 per cent over the August, 1939 level.

The food index for September was 203.5 per cent of the 1935-39 average. This was 40 per cent higher than June, 1946, and 10 per cent above June, 1920, the postwar peak of World War I.

The consumers price index is based on surveys in 18 cities of retail prices of goods and services purchased by moderate income families.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS HIT AT HIGH PRICES

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 14—Young Democrats dug into discussion of the Marshall plan and high prices today with a warning from Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., that a Republican "Roman holiday" would continue in congress if the G.O.P. gains "full control" of the government.

Roosevelt, 33, son of the late president, struck out at Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and the "bourbon philosophy" of the Republican party in a keynote address last night at the opening general session of the young Democratic clubs of America.

In his major political appearance to date, he urged the "building of one world" and continuation of the Democratic party's "faith in the average man."

Roosevelt, now a lawyer in New York, declared America must remain "militarily strong" until Russia is "convinced of the folly of its present two-world policy."

TOP GRANGE DEGREE RECEIVED BY 18,000

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 14—The ritual of conferring the highest degree in the National Grange continued today.

About 18,0000 candidates in six classes moved through the two-hour seventh degree ceremony yesterday in a Columbus theater and hundreds of other candidates were turned away.

Grange officials anticipated conferring the degree on about 1,500 additional candidates this morning.

The candidates of yesterday and today will be guests at 2 p. m. at a convocation of Demeter in the state capital's Memorial hall, where additional explanation of the ritual work through which they moved will be offered.

Among the thousands receiving the degree yesterday were U. S. Sen. Robert A. Taft, Gov. Thomas J. Herbert and Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt.

Plans to confer the degree on President Truman fell through when plans for a special session of congress prevented the Chief Executive from coming to Columbus.

WARREN TOSSES HAT IN PRESIDENTIAL RING

By The Associated Press

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 14—Governor Earl Warren, only chief executive of California ever to be elected as the nominee of both the Republican and Democratic parties was a candidate for the Republican nomination for president today.

Warren entered the race with only two reservations. He will not make an active personal campaign and he will not seek delegates in other states.

Under the circumstances, he told a press conference yesterday, he is willing to have his name presented by the California delegation at the Republican convention as a candidate. Further, he told newsmen, he hopes the California voters will approve the delegation pledged to him.

Nobody in authority, he said, has proposed to him that he take a second place on the ballot and he "would not be interested" in the vice presidential nomination if it were tendered.

Warren's decision had been forecast except that some of his close associates believed he would not so quickly make up his mind on the question of permitting his name to be entered in the presidential primaries of other states.

When he made his announcement however, he had resolved this question and reached a decision not to compete in other primaries.

Warren declined to elaborate his reasons but associates said his decision was based upon the belief his best prospects of obtaining the nomination rested on the chance he might emerge as the compromise candidate—as a result of a deadlock in the convention balloting—and that this possibility would be enhanced if he had not antagonized other candidates by competing with them in their own states.

OHIOAN PROTESTS TAX-FREE CO-OPS

Mt. Victory Man Testifies Before House Committee.

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 — The house ways and means committee was told Thursday that cooperative organizations selling goods and services must be placed on the same tax footing as other business if the traditional type of business is to survive.

C. K. Elliot of Mt. Victory, O., spokesman for the Independent Livestock Marketing Association, filed with the committee a statement taking a position similar to that of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, which also asked for removal of "tax inequalities" "as between the ordinary business house and some cooperatives."

Elliot cited the Producers Livestock Cooperative Association of Columbus as an example of his contention. The Producers Livestock Cooperative, Elliot's statement said, was organized in 1935 and now owns and operates 30 yards and livestock auction markets throughout Ohio.

Although the co-op did a business of $90,000,000 in 1946 and finished the year with a net worth of $834,624, the organization set aside less than $3,000 as a tax reserve, Elliot reported. He said he had done business with the co-op but had never received a certificate of membership or patronage divided.

"In other words" Elliot's statement continued, "it appears that this association is doing business with the general public, enjoying the same privilege as does private enterprise without the payment of federal income tax."

HOSTESS TO CLASS

Miss Pauline Cochert was hostess to the Young People's class of Emanuel Lutheran church Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Benson south of Marion. Miss Dorothea Lust presided for the meeting and the discussion topic, "Myself and I" was presented by Lloyd Johnston. The evening was spent socially with contest awards going to Miss Emma Knickel, Earl Baseler, and Theodore Rhoads. The hostess was assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. Benson. The next meeting will be Dec. 9 with Miss Jean Drake at 206 South State street.

MARIONITE PATENTS NEW WINDOW DEVICE

O. B. Morrison Develops Article at Toledo Factory.

A Marion man has invented and had patented a device that eliminates use of ladders for work about windows. The inventor is O B Morrison of 285 Duluth avenue, president of the firm known as the Morrison Crafters, of Toledo

Concerning his device Mr Morrison says "Now you can wash, paint or putty windows, hang screens or awnings without a ladder."

The simple device fits over any window sill and is adjustable to all normal household wall thicknesses The worker, man or woman, stands on a substantial 17 ft by 10 ft wood floor outside of the building and is protected by a sturdy steel railing Weight-tested to more than 500 pounds, the device now is being manufactured and sold by the Toledo company under the trade name WindoStep

The household model does away with the ever-present hazard in the use of ladders—step or otherwise in outside window work according to its manufacturers Its use eliminates once and for all the danger of sitting or standing on the window ledge Fully handled upstairs or down, even with combination storm sashes, it is claimed by its inventor to offer the householder the handiest means yet derived for safely reaching the window's outer surface

A commercial model for hotels and office buildings, which works on the same gravity principle, now is being developed

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

I MIGHT have known that Mary's keen perceptions would be too much for me. I had hoped to keep from her the "undertone" reactions of Georges, Noel and Olina to her attendance at the camouflaged wedding of the native king of Trees to Olina, would-be princess of Transvania, but now, I knew nothing but frankness would do.

"Mary," I said with a bit of exasperation in my voice, "I have no business telling you the things I'm going to, for they are only bits of extra embroidery on the fabric, and they really are of no importance. But you are insatiable—also clairvoyant, so I'm going to give you undertones which may exist only in my imagination."

"Never mind your imagination," she said. "Let's hear the undertones."

"Then I'll begin with Georges," I said. "I may be wrong, but after he had received the news of your illness with just the right concern, he said that he could see how the strain of the wedding might be too much for you. It really was a most commonplace remark, but, someway, I fancied there was an intonation—"

"Of course there was an intonation," Mary said with flashing eyes that boded no good for the royal playboy who once had been betrothed to her. "You know Georges. What he was trying to get over to you, what he evidently believes, is that I'll have a pang or two in my heart muscles when he vows eternal fealty to Olina at the altar. But wasn't there anybody to tilt a lance in my behalf?"

"Your uncle Dicky did a fairly good job at deflation," I said, and then told her what Dicky had said to Georges.

"Good for Nunky," she said with a little satisfied smile wreathing her lips. "I guess that'll hold him until I can hand him a haymaker or two myself. But now, tell me the rest of the dope. You haven't answered my question about Noel. What does he know?"

"He knows everything," I said, trying to keep my voice even. "He flagged me tonight when I was going to talk to Olina, evidently suspecting what was up, and I told him everything."

"How did he take it?" she asked breathlessly.

"Very well, indeed, except for one or two remarks, which he does not intend you to hear," I said. "Indeed, I feel as if I were playing him a scurvy trick in repeating them to you."

"But I must hear them, Auntie Madge," she said tensely. "Don't you understand that?"

"Yes, I do, Child," I told her, and then related Noel's suspicion that the guests at the wedding might think Mary was a bit nostalgic over Georges.

"The guests being the Philip Veritzens, you, Uncle Dicky, Aunt Katharine, Faith, and I suppose Mr. 'K,'" Mary said, "I can't imagine anyone of you thinking anything like that about me," she added disdainfully.

"Neither can I," I told her quickly.

"Then I think I can settle Noel," she said.

"Don't you dare to hint I repeated anything he said," I warned her.

"What do you think I am, the Goop to end all Goops?" she countered. "Well, that narrows the thing down to Olina. What was her undertone?"

"When I told her of Father's plan," I began evasively, "she answered that you and Noel were to be there and was beaming with delight at the thought that you would be her matron of honor, and that Noel would be Georges' best man, in Pietro's absence. Then she said in effect: 'She must be there. I can't be really sure unless—'"

"She broke off abruptly, and asked me to forget the twaddle, said she didn't know what she had been saying."

"Like the hinges of the hot place, she didn't," Mary exclaimed, springing to her feet. "Oh, I don't mean she thinks Im' carrying even a wee little taper for Georges, and I'm sure she's sincere in wanting Noel and me to be attendants at her wedding.

"But," she raced on, "not having the sense God gave a goose, she can't understand that Georges' wandering glances don't mean a thing, and that he really cares no more for me than I do for him."

Privately, I doubted that last statement, but I did not let my skepticism show in my face.

"I guess we've got our work cut out for us at that wedding, Auntie Madge," she said. "Some way we've got to make Georges walk the straightest chalk line he ever walked, and keep his eyes on the line in the bargain. Are you with me?"

STRANDED ON PEAK FOUR DAYS. Food and bedrolls have been dropped to Dr. and Mrs. Robert Dyke of Taft, Cal., who spent four days on the side of snow-covered Gilbert Peak near Evanston, Wyo., before being spotted from the air. Ground party is making the tortuous trek up the mountainside to rescue the couple, who crashed in their private plane after taking off at Casper, Wyo., on return trip of an aerial vacation.

KING'S DAUGHTERS CIRCLE MEMBERS ENTERTAINED

Mrs. Mabel Ulsh and Mrs. Helen Meredith were associate hostesses when the Circle of Light, King's Daughters, met Monday night at the home of Mrs. Harold Foster on East Church street. Mrs. Louise Fogle conducted the devotions and the roll call topic was "What We Are Thankful For." The Bible story was given by Mrs. A. R. Tennis. A bazaar followed the business session and later there was a social hour with appointments in keeping with Thanksgiving. A meeting Dec. 8 will be with Mrs. Tennis on East Church street.

Dulse, an edible seaweed, is gathered on the coast of the Bay of Fundy and shipped all over the world.

Mrs. Mouser To Be Guest at Meeting

Mrs. H. K. Mouser of North Prospect street will be a special guest at the first district directors meeting for members of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Ohio State Medical association and members-at-large who are in the Tenth district, Monday at the Seneca Hotel in Columbus. The district includes Franklin, Fayette, Knox, Madison, Pickaway, Ross, Union, Delaware and Morrow counties.

Other special guests will be Mrs. E. B. Gillette of Toledo state president-elect and Mrs. Paul A. Davis of Akron, past president. In the afternoon Mrs. Mouser and other special guests will attend the regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Columbus Academy of Medicine at the Nurses Home, St. Francis hospital. Dr. Charles A. Doan, dean of the college of medicine at Ohio State university, will be the guest speaker.

PLANS UNDER WAY FOR BOOTH FESTIVAL

Lima Districts To Be Held at Forest and Shawnee.

Preparations are under way by members of Methodist Youth Fellowship groups of the Lima district, including those of churches of Marion county and this area, for the annual booth festival event Nov. 28. There will be two festivals, one for the east section of the district, including Marion county, and one for the west section, with a total of between 600 and 800 expected to attend, the office of Dr. John M. Versteeg, district superintendent, announced.

The center for the east section will be the high school at Forest, and for the west section the Shawnee High school near Lima. Chairman for the east section is Rev. Cecil F. Fogle of Upper Sandusky. General booth festival chairman for the district is Jack Fulton of Delphos.

Contributions for Flower hospital, Toledo, Methodist institution, and the Methodist Children's home at Worthington, collected by local Youth Fellowships previously, will be turned in at the festivals. Booths arranged to portray some idea in line with a general theme of giving will be judged for beauty, originality and message. Lima district for several years has led other districts of the denomination in booth festival contributions. Last year a total of $24,958.77 was raised by Lima district, it was stated. At each festival a program and supper will be followed by a fellowship period and recreation.

A harvest home ingathering was held by Epworth Methodist church here last Sunday in the interest of the booth festival, and other churches are soliciting cash or supplies from the general membership.

At least one-third of the population of Washington state depends economically on forest industries.

HARDING SET FOR RUGGED FREMONT IN CLOSER TONIGHT

11 Seniors To Bow Out As Prexies Try for Eighth Win

Harding High school football team plays its last game of the season tonight in Harding stadium with once-beaten Fremont Ross. Game time is 8 p. m.

Eleven Harding seniors will dig up high school turf for the last time—Dick Gherman, Fred Lacey, Gene Peadon, Jim Hill, Jim Eddy, Don Ellis, Dick Huddle, Bob Ralston, Jim Coss, Bob Short and Jack Hoffman. Dick Corwin, sidelined with an injury for several weeks, is also a senior.

Try for Eighth

The Prexies will be battling for their eighth win in 10 starts before an expected capacity crowd of 4,300, but they'll have an uphill fight. The Rossmen have only been beaten once this season and have downed such stalwarts as Ashland, Fostoria, Bowling Green and Toledo Scott, scoring 264 points to their opponents' 60, or an average of five or six touchdowns a game to their victims' one.

Bands from both Harding and Fremont will color the season finale with pre-game and half-time shows.

Still a doubtful starter for the Prexies is right tackle Bob Ralston, whose elbow was injured early this week. Left tackle Jack Hoffman was injured at Ashland and has been sidelined since then except for a few minutes in Sandusky, but will probably start tonight.

Backfield Ready

Prexy backs Dick Leffler, Dick Gherman, Clarence Smith, Dick Huddle, Jim Hill and Jim Coss all are ready to go tonight.

The offensive unit, Dick Leffler at quarterback, Jim Hill and Jim Coss at halfbacks, and Clarence Smith at fullback will probably start if the Presidents receive the kickoff. Gherman and Huddle will replace Leffler and Smith on defense.

Fremont's offensive backfield: quarterback, Dick Baron; halfbacks, John Auxter and Tex Frey, and fullback, Bobo Weinhardt. On defense, Bob Beck plays fullback and Weinhardt left halt.

Sixteen of the Rossmen are seniors and will be in their last high school football game.

Outweigh Prexies

The Rossmen outweigh the Presidents an average eight pounds per man. The Fremont right tackle alone boosts their average up a couple of pounds. He weighs in at 230 pounds.

If the Rossmen take the tilt tonight they'll earn their best season record since 1919 and will be one up on the Prexies in games played between the two schools. In 1924 Fremont beat Marion, 18-2, but the following year, Marion evened the series with a 13-0 shutout.

CLEVELAND BROWNS TO BATTLE 49'ERS

Divisional Honors at Stake; 80,000 Expected.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 14—The two top dogs of the All America Football Conference's western division collide head-on here Sunday, with the Cleveland Browns out to sew up divisional honors for the second straight year and the San Francisco 49ers staging a do-or-die struggle to remain in contention.

The advance ticket sale indicates that close to 80,000 customers will jam the lakefront stadium to watch the battle.

The Browns learned in last Sunday's 13 to 12 squeeze past the lowly Brooklyn Dodgers that they can't take any foe too lightly.

Last year the 49ers came to town and fractured the Browns' perfect record of seven victories with a 34 to 20 shellacking. In two subsequent meetings the Browns won 14 to 7, the last time in San Francisco three weeks ago.

Featuring a wide-open T-formation attack paced by quarterback Frankie Albert, fullback Norm Standlee and halfback Johnny Strzykalski, the 49ers are equipped to match the high-scoring Browns' offense.

Albert, the southpaw passing star, has been dueling with the Browns' Otto Graham for pitching honors since the league started operations last fall. Their marksmanship has been enhanced by the fact that they have sure-handed ends to use as targets.

Al Beals, the Frisco wingman, has been one of the league's top receivers for two years and was named on the All-Conference club last year along with Dante Lavelli of the Browns. Mac Speedie, Lavelli's running mate, currently leads the league in pass receptions.

Sunday's game also will display the league's most powerful fullbacks — Marion Motley of the Browns and Standlee of the 49ers.

Strzykalski probably is the best right half in the conference—at least no other player in that position comes close to matching his average of 6.21 yards for 106 running attempts. The Browns will count heavily upon their breakaway left halfback, Edgar (Special Delivery) Jones, who has regained top form after five weeks' inactivity with a broken elbow

Operating in front of the two teams' stellar backfields are two of the best lines in the business, so it's easy to understand why the game promises to be a sellout.

A.A. TO MEET IN MIAMI

Ohio's 1,000,000 Hunters Have But 15 Acres Apiece

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 14—There's not going to be much margin for error for the estimated 1,000,000 hunters who sally forth at 9 a. m. tomorrow armed with shotguns in quest of rabbit, grouse and pheasant.

State conservation commission H. A. Rider figured today that this record number of hunters have only about 15 acres each in which to deploy. He reckoned it this way: Ohio has 26,318,000 acres of land and water, but after subtracting municipalities, industrial areas, railroad rights of way, highways, bodies of water, etc., only 15,000,000 acres are left for hunting. Divide 15,000,000 acres by 1,000,000 hunters, and you have 15 acres per hunter.

Not Much Elbow Room

Commissioner Rider doesn't consider that very much elbow room, and mindful of the fact that especially on opening day a lot of amateurs who have never shouldered a gun before are in the field, he has published these "ten commandments of safety":

1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun. This is the cardinal rule of gun safety.
2. Carry only empty guns, taken down or with the action open, into your automobile, camp, and home.
3. Always be sure that the barrel and action are clear of obstructions.
4. Always carry your gun so that you control the direction of the muzzle, even if you stumble.
5. Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger.
6. Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot.
7. Never leave your gun unattended unless you unload it first.
8. Never climb a tree or a fence with a loaded gun.
9. Never shoot at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water.
10. Do not mix gunpowder and alcohol.

Accident Rate Low

Most accidents occur on opening day of the season because so many persons unfamiliar with the correct use of firearms are afield, the commissioner pointed out. Nevertheless, the commissioner said Ohio's hunting accident rate is one of the lowest in the nation. He credited this mostly to the fact that hunters in Ohio are not allowed to use high-powered rifles.

The only weapons permitted hunters in Ohio are shotguns and low-powered rifles. A bow and arrow may be used to take game, but a hunting license is required.

Because rabbits and particularly pheasants are in short supply this year, the hunting hours have been reduced to seven hours a day—from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. The season on rabbits extends to Dec. 3 inclusive; on pheasants, to Nov. 22 inclusive and on grouse to Nov. 29 inclusive.

The daily bag limits are the same as last year: two cock pheasants, four rabbits, and two grouse.

FESLER DIGS DEEP FOR BUCK FULLBACKS

May Use 4th-Stringers Saturday Against Illini.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 14—Wes Fesler had a new song to sing today when his battered Ohio State Buckeyes tapered off for their rendezvous with Illinois Saturday.

Reviewing his current injury roster, the curly haired mentor groaned:

"Praise the substitution rule and pass along the fullbacks."

Not that myriads of his gridders were bedded down in hospitals. Only three injuries really had Fesler scurrying around the fourth-string practice field hunting reserves.

The biggest problem confronting Fesler was solving the backstopping problem for fullback Ollie Cline, and that led to obvious problems in higher substitution.

The rambling Mr. Cline hasn't been and isn't a 60-minute player. So throwing up a rampart for the moments when Ollie is regaining his breath on the bench led Fesler today to this solution:

On defense, he'll probably call on fullback Chuck Renner, a fourth-stringer, and center Howard Teifke—neither an old hand at defensive fullbacking.

On offense, he'll probably divide the work not done by Cline between Renner and fullback Glenn Oliver—both making their 1947 offensive debut.

Just to add space to the substitution problem, Fesler admitted left halfback Rod Swinehart possibly would be used as a defensive fullback at times.

Fesler's other two first-string fullbacks, Joe Whisler and Pete Perini, showed little evidence today they would be in shape for action against Illinois. However, indications were Perini could handle the punting, a department in which he is better than average. Another standout, Joe Verdova, has been lost for the season.

In the line, apparently, Fesler plans to stick with his regular seven, at least at the beginning. He told newsmen, however, end Bob Dorsey and tackle Brent Kirk undoubtedly would see plenty of service as replacements for right end Jim Hague and left tackle Jack Wilson.

"If you see a center playing fullback Saturday," Fesler declared to newsmen, "you better yell down and let me know. There's no telling what will happen with our gosh-darn substitution problem."

Fesler pointed out that keeping of who is playing where is hard enough under the current assembly-line substitution rule when the easily identified regulars are doing the shuttling.

Sammy Baugh punted 14 times in a game between his Washington Redskins and Philadelphia Nov. 5, 1939.

BUCYRUS PROS HOSTS TO DAYTON BOMBERS

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Nov. 14—The Bucyrus Hornets, semi-pro football team, winners of five out of six games played this season and defeated but once, will take on one of their strongest opponents of the season here Sunday afternoon when they play host to the Dayton Bombers at Lane Field. Game time is 2:30 p.m.

The Hornets hold victories over the Charcoal Pirates, Columbus Crestline Railroaders, Akron North End club and the Snyder's Grills of Toledo. The Bulldogs, who finished the season unbeaten, were the only club to mar the Hornets' record, losing one game at 7-up while trouncing the other, 9-0.

The Bombers from Dayton also have an impressive record for the season. They have been beaten only by the Fort Wayne, Ind., team, 21-0, while they have defeated games from Ohio teams.

Included in the Hornets' lineup are such stars as Jim Langhurst, Willard High school and Ohio university fullback and All-American selection in his senior year at O.S.U., "Wib" Schneider, assistant freshman coach at Buckeye school Bud Kessler, former Ohio State flankman, Bob Hallabrin, also a former Blue and Grey performer, and Bill Heck, an all-Ohio choice while playing for Ohio Northern before going to Ohio Wesleyan.

The team is coached by Carl Hoff, also a former Ohio State star and Big Ten choice.

Sports Chatter On This & That

By FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio AP Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 14—Last Saturday's Ohio State victory over Northwestern, manufactured some three minutes after the time had expired because the Wildcats incurred a series of penalties, still is the top topic in these parts.

In fact, most of the fans would rather discuss that enchanting victory than look forward to tomorrow's almost certain setback at the hands of an Illinois team which is loaded practically up the muzzle of both barrels.

The Northwestern outcome, centering around the free substitution rule and a "12th man on the field" angle, has set up a sort of chain reaction, as one of the atom bomb expert set says.

LATEST to get into the argument on the free substitution rule is Tom Vernia of Chillicothe, one of the state's better officials. The Associated Press is now in the process of selecting its annual All-Ohio football team, ballots being sent to all the state's 535 head football coaches, 100 selected game officials, and sports editors of Ohio's papers.

Vernia, naturally, was among the top-flight officials named to participate in the poll, but Tom begged off the talent picking chore because he said he's so busy enforcing rules that he doesn't have a chance to study individual ability.

ALONG THAT LINE, Vernia went on:

"Because of the substitution rule, I would not be able to tell the real ability of most players except for the speed they show getting on and off the field. Kids are seldom in the game long enough to really settle down and demonstrate their ability.

"Your ballots might include 23 players, 11 offensive stars, 11 defensive stalwarts, and one (1) outstanding messenger boy. You may gather that the rules does not appeal to me. Most huddles have their signals called with 'coach says to play number so-and-so.'

'Defenses are set up from the word brought in by substitutes in many cases.

"HERE'S A TRUE STORY. The team was in the huddle. A sub rushed on the field, ran to the huddle, looked in and then raced to the opposite side of the field from his team's bench. No substitution had been made, so I penalized the team for '12 men on field—delay of game.'

"A few plays later this same boy did the same thing and I had to enforce the same penalty. Just being curious, I asked the boy what was going on. He replied 'Ref, I just couldn't find the player the coach sent me in for, so I just got off the field.' That's the way this sub rule works. Nobody, the fans, officials or even the coaches, seems to know who is in the game."

Tom's remarks, of course, are just a part of the big wave sweeping the country to "give the game back to the boys,' and from this corner it does seem about time that the high school clubs quit using professional coaches as quarterbacks on every play.

MINOR LEAGUES TO LAUNCH DRAFT

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 14—Now that the major leagues have their annual draft out of the way, the minor loops will launch next Monday their yearly selection of talent from those lower down the ladder.

George M. Trautman, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues (the minors), said today all member loops of class C and higher would have an opportunity to pick players from lower classification clubs.

The first selections will be made Nov. 17 and 18 by the "big three" of minor leaguedom, the American Association, the Pacific Coast and International leagues, all in the triple-A class.

Class AA clubs will follow with selections Nov. 19 and 20; class A teams Nov. 21 and 22; class B nov. 24-25, and class C Nov. 28 and 29. Selections will be made by mail and telegram.

"Judging by the large number drafted by major league clubs," Trautman said, "the minors will advance many players through the draft process."

Last Monday the majors picked up 26 minor league stars for about a quarter-million dollars at the draft meeting supervised by Commissioner A. B. Chandler at Cincinnati.

GEORGE CONNOR
Bulwark for Irish

DICK SCOTT
Leads Navy Line

Two of the nation's top lines will clash on Nov. 1 at Cleveland when Notre Dame faces up-and-coming Navy.

The Irish, universal pre-season choices to top the nation's grid pack, have mowed down all opposition, although not in the impressive style that Michigan steamrollered its opponents.

Navy has been a disappointment to its backers, but the Middies seemed to have gotten back on the right track when they slaughtered Cornell.

The hard-charging Notre Dame forward wall is led by huge George Connor, an All-America tackle in 1946 who is a good bet to repeat this year. Connor, captain of the Irish, is from Chicago. He is 22, stands six feet three and weighs 220 pounds.

Navy's line played savagely on the offense and defense against most of the Naval Academy's rivals this campaign. Scott, also captain of his squad, has been a standout at center. He hails from Highland Falls, N. Y., is 23, weighs 200 pounds and stands six, three.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 14 — The total number of players brought to the major leagues in the annual baseball draft stood at 31 today with the announcement of three additional selections made just before the midnight deadline last night.

The Cincinnati Reds drafted pitcher Ken Holcombe, a former member of the New York Yankee chain, from Sacramento of the Pacific Coast league.

The St. Louis Browns picked up infielder Garvin Hammer from Toronto of the International league.

The Boston Red Sox drafted outfielder Alph Simmoononis from New Orleans of the Southern Association.

MIHALAKIS AND SCHULTZ WIN TAG TEAM MATCH

Mike Mihalakis and Dutch Schultz teamed up to take Paul Orth and Billy Wiedner in a tag team match at the Armory last night. Dutch and Mike won the first and third falls.

In the 30-minute one-fall preliminaries, Schultz took Weidner in ten minutes, and Mihalakis took Orth in six minutes.

O.W.U., Denison Ready For Conference Tilt

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, Nov. 14—The Ohio Conference's battle of the year Saturday brings the undefeated Denison gridders to Selby field to meet the Battling Bishops of Ohio Wesleyan.

The Bishops served notice in last Saturday's 7-7 tie with the heavy Ohio university team that they'll be no pushover for the Big Red. Besides the tie at Athens, Wesleyan has lost to Baldwin-Wallace, 19-27, but defeated Albion, Otterbein, Case, DePauw and Mt. Union.

Denison has beaten seven foes, rolling up 244 points while allowing only 42. If the invaders can win Saturday, they'll be champs of the Ohio Conference.

Coach Glenn Fraser, however, said his boys are "anticipating" the game and are in good shape physically. Tackle Jim Madison is the only grideer on the doubtful list. He is suffering from a slight case of flu.

WANTS UNIVERSITIES TO CEASE HIRING PROS

By The United Press

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 14—Sandy Beaver, vice chairman of the Georgia board of regents, called on southern universities today to cease "hiring professional football players" and to form a "de-emphasis association."

The board of regents is the governing body for the state's two big colleges—Georgia and Georgia Tech, both traditionally among the south's strongest football teams.

Beavers said that he had attended football games this season at Athens, Ga., Atlanta, Baltimore, Washington, and Jacksonville and that what he had seen convinced him that football was "not on a proper basis" and that the game now constitutes a "definite menace to our educational programs."

Basketball Officials To Attend Clinic

Marion county basketball coaches and officials are slated to attend the annual basketball clinic sponsored by the Marion county athletic committee at 8 p. m. Monday in Pleasant township school.

Robert Stumer of Ohio Wesleyan university with members of the Wesleyan basketball squad will give a demonstration of the following points at 9 p. m.—offensive set-ups, fast breaks, defense both man-for-man and zone, out-of-bounds plays, center tap plays and plays from the foul circle.

To Ask Disabled Vets To Pass on Graziano

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14—The Pennsylvania State Athletic commission is going to ask disabled service men in the state hospitals whether they think middleweight Rocky Graziano should be barred from fighting because he received a dishonorable discharge from the Army.

Leon Rains, chairman of the commission, said yesterday the body believed it was not fair for it to pass judgment on the champion and that disabled veterans should be the best judges.

The commission plans to take a poll of the patients in the veterans hospitals and upon their vote will depend largely the answer the commission gives to the National Boxing association.

Roving Reports

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

MEN do strange things for love, and William G. Martin wants to make a 19,000-mile journey—because of love for his three cats.

It is a great dream. But like all great dreams it has a problem.

"I would go through hell for them cats, and I want them to have good homes in case anything happens to me," he said. "After all I am 64 years-old, and I got diabetes."

"Scotty" Martin is a five-foot-plus Scotchman, who has nothing to show for his 35 years in America but the three cats he loves. For more than a third of a century he has earned his way with a clothesline, letting people tie him up at state fairs and in bars and pool halls. He lives by the tips he collects for working free of the ropes within five minutes. He's done it more than 25,000 times.

Hal Boyle

"I used to do good business," he said. "I been tied up by lots of famous people—'Gyp the Blood,' Ty Cobb, Stanley Ketchel. Three times I tried to get Harry Houdini to tie me up. He wouldn't. It was professional jealousy. He knew I'd get loose.

"Once I had $18,000 saved. Then the boils came. I spent it all on the boils. I had 400 boils. Took me 12 years to get rid of them. I made medical history. The doctors at Bellevue hospital all say that."

BUT LIFE HAS BEEN lonely for the gnarled little man. He never married. And people weren't always kind to the queer roustabout who gave imitations of Harry Lauder in a squeaky voice when nobody wanted to see his rope trick.

"I've taken abuse for 35 years," said Scotty. "Things like tough guys punching me when I was all tied up—so I must be a real superman to still be alive."

Two years ago the human stray began to pick up stray cats to have something on which to spend the love dammed up in every heart. For a while the hotel let him keep his three cats in his tiny room, but the manager some months ago told him this violated board of health rules.

Scotty took the cats to a pet shop which charges him $1.50 a day to board and keep them. He's currently $94 in hock to the pet shop, and he said he can't go up to see the cats unless he pays something on the bill.

"I have a great love for my cats," he said. "I worship them. I am better to them than people are to their babies."

WORRIED OVER THEIR fate if anything befell him, Scotty evolved his great dream.

"If I can just find good homes for my cats until next spring so I won't have to keep paying the veterinarian I'll be all set," he said.

"Then when the weather warms up I can go across the country and perform with my cats. I'll have 15,000 postcards printed and sell them. That'll give me the rest of the money I need.

"I'll sail from San Francisco for Australia and leave one cat with my sister who lives at Coogee, near Sydney.

"Then I'll go on to New Zealand and leave another cat with my sister who lives there. And then I'll sail for Scotland and leave the last cat with my brother who is a pawnbroker in Dumbarton, near where I was born.

"I figure the trip will be 19,000 miles. Who ever went that far before to give cats away?

"BUT I'M BROKE NOW. I've got to find a decent home for my cats until spring. I don't mind if there's children in the home. And I wouldn't bother the people. I only would come to see the cats once a week."

The gray-haired little man knotted his small white fists.

"I'd slave for my cats," he said. "I'd cut off my right arm for them. They've shown me ten thousand times more love and affection than I ever got from human beings."

Scotty hasn't written his relatives about the cats. He wants to surprise them.

TOLEDO U. PREXY—Dr. Wilbur W. White, dean of the graduate school of Western Reserve university, Cleveland, has been appointed president of Toledo university, Dr. White, a nationally-known expert in political science, will take the post vacated by the death last spring of Dr. Philip C. Nash.

TWO LIQUOR PLACES CITED FOR HEARING

Agatha Myrtle Wellwood, proprietor of the Sportsman's Cafe of near Mt. Victory, and Helen Coke, proprietor of the China Pig of near Gallon, were among 28 liquor permit holders who today were ordered to appear before the state liquor control board in Columbus to answer charges of violations, an Associated Press dispatch reports.

The Sportsman's Cafe, with a permit to sell beer and wine, is charged with illegal possession of whisky, sale to minors, and possession of a gambling device (cookie jar).

The China Pig, with beer, wine, liquor and late-hour permits, is charged with after-hour sales, sales to persons not seated at a table, and failure to provide a clear view of the interior after legal closing hours.

BELLEFONTAINE MAN DIES

By The Associated Press

BELLEFONTAINE, O., Nov. 14—James M. Pence, 68, retired grain elevator operator and former school teacher, died unexpectedly yesterday at Livingston, Tenn., where he had gone on a hunting trip. A native of Logan county, Pence had served on the school board and as vice president of a bank at neighboring Jackson Center.

In Plain Words

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

MANY people, on their own, are sending relief to people in other countries.

They're sending it in money, food and clothing to individuals and groups at a rate of more than $12,000,000 a month.

Maybe this will help if you want to send some but don't know how:

In some cases you, yourself, can send by parcel post. Otherwise, gifts may be sent through a foreign relief agency. There are more than 70 such agencies.

James Marlow

Suppose you want to send through an agency but don't know what agency or how to get in touch with the one you have in mind. Then do this:

Write for information to the Advisory Committee on Voluntary Aid, room 736, at 1778 Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, D. C.

THIS COMMITTEE IS A kind of over-all agency or clearing house for most information dealing with agencies sending foreign relief.

Just remember: Those agencies—with one exception to be noted later—send relief, such as food and clothes, to groups and not to individuals.

You ask: but how can I, Joe Jones, send relief? That depends upon the kind you want to send, and to whom.

Suppose you want to send clothes or food to some individual or group, whose name and address you know, in a foreign country.

You, yourself, can send the relief by parcel post up to a certain number of pounds. Parcel post can be sent to almost every country. Ask your local postoffice about that.

SO FAR THIS EXAMPLE has dealt with food or clothes which you have bought or picked out to send.

But suppose you don't have food or clothes to send but would like to pay for food or clothes to be sent to some individual or group abroad.

You can send $10 to CARE—the full name is Cooperative for American Remittances To Europe, Inc.—at 50 Broad street, New York City.

CARE has various kinds of packages of food and clothing already packed for sending abroad.

If you know the name of the individual or group to whom you want such a package sent, write to CARE and enclose $10. If you want to send two packages, send $20. And so on.

YOU CAN ALSO DO this through CARE: You can send to a type of individual without knowing his name. For example:

Suppose you want to send a package to a French schoolteacher with three children. Tell that to CARE and send the money. The agents of CARE in France will find such a person and deliver the package.

In under any circumstances CARE can't find the person or type of person to whom you've sent a package, your money will be refunded.

Now here's a different problem: Where you deal with the other agencies sending relief.

Suppose you want to help out in a more general way. Say you want to send help to the Italian people.

You can send food or clothing to the agency which is handling relief for Italy. Or you can send the agency the money to buy the food or clothing.

IF YOU DON'T KNOW how to get in touch with that agency, do as suggested above: Ask the Advisory Committee on Voluntary Foreign Aid.

(Don't send the Advisory Committee on Voluntary Foreign Aid any money. It does not accept money. It only provides information.)

Here's another example: Suppose you want to send food or clothing to Catholic French orphans. Get in touch with the Catholic agency handling relief.

But you say: I want to send money to a friend or relative in a foreign country. How do I go about it?

You can send the money through a bank draft on your local bank. Ask your bank about it.

(There are two exceptions: You can't transfer cash to Germany; and money sent to Japan must be handled through the National City Bank of New York.

All this information came from the Advisory Committee on Voluntary Foreign Aid.

Volunteers Wanted From Enlisted Reserve

Members of the Army's Enlisted Reserve Corps may volunteer for active duty to take part in the program of paying military honors to repatriated war dead.

Those applicants who want to volunteer for active duty to provide escorts and take part in other appropriate ceremonies for returning dead will be interviewed by Col. Edward M. Taylor Saturday between the hours of 10 a. m. and 12 noon in his office, rooms 6 and 7, in the McNeil-Wolford building at 131-133 West Center street.

Volunteers have the choice of a six-month, nine-month or one-year period of active duty with full pay and travel allowances. The Army has stated that men volunteering for this duty will be assigned only to service in connection with the repatriation program. Men will be placed on active duty in the grades they hold in the Enlisted Reserve Corps.

Capital Capers

By Frederick Othma

WASHINGTON

ONE of the major crosses now borne by the human race is pajamas. Particularly the pants.

They feel fine when you put 'em on; they still feel all right when you sit on the side of the bed to contemplate the tribulations of the day. But after you crawl in between the sheets, the pants also crawl.

Up the legs they go. There isn't much you can do about it, or at least there wasn't until today, except get up, stand on the cold floor, shake down the pants, creep back into bed, and continue the vicious cycle the rest of the night.

F. C. Othman

This has been going on since 1569, I understand, when a Venetian haberdasher with a hate for his fellow man, foisted off the first pajamas. Only acrobats for the last 400 years have been able to keep their pajama pants down around their ankles and even they have suffered a number of spinal lesions in the doing.

Let us journey now to the prosperous little city of Beaumont, Tex., where the Misses Lillion and Anna Nahas, believe to be sisters by my informants in the government, pondered long the problem of the perambulating pajama pants.

The Misses Nahas considered but discarded the idea of using glue, court-plaster, thumb tacks, whalebone, steel ankled cuffs, lead weights or a light-weight block and tackle (attached to the bottom of the pants and swung over the foot of the bed."

WHEN ALL SEEMED TO be lost, one of the sisters (I'm not sure whether it was Lillion or Anna) cried Eureka! Quickly the Nahas girls applied their development to all the pajamas in the household and the sigh of contentment that night could be heard throughout the neighborhood.

Relative told relative and friend told friend and it wasn't long before everybody in Beaumont, except for the hermit at the east end of town, was wearing Nahas improved pajamas.

All this happened about a year ago. You may ask why I'm just getting around to reporting it. It's not my fault that the U. S. patent office can't get its work done any sooner. Yes, sir, the Nahas girls applied for a patent on their pajama pants improvers and today they received it: number 2,430,406.

THEIR INVENTION IS simplicity itself. It consists of a strip of cloth sewn to the bottom of each pants leg. I could tell you how these strips work, but I like the government's language better:

"The strips are for receiving the toe of a wearer, whereby to enable the wearer to pull down the leg portion."

You use the right toe on the left leg strip, of course, and then vice versa, with a minimum disturbance of the covers. Let us bow low to the sisters; there's been no better invention since the wheel.

LEGISLATURE TO GET CITY AID PROPOSALS

By The Associated Press

LUMBUS, O., Nov. 14—Thomas J. Herbert had ...ed today to include two pro...als by the Ohio Association of ...ties in any call for a special ...sion of the Ohio legislature.

The governor told an association ...mittee yesterday he would in...de the following:

...nsideration of legislation to ...ect cities from loss of present ...nds as a result of ultimate Ohio ...reme court action on the ...soline tax snarl.

...nsideration of legislation to ...ide cities with some share of ...new allocation of the liquid ... tax because of the passage ... a constitutional amendment earmarking this money for road purposes.

Herbert turned down, however, recommendation of a permanent joint legislative committee to study city and rural problems, and study city and rural problems, and operating levies to voters at special elections that require only a majority vote.

He took under advisement association proposals asking for "a good portion" of any surplus gasoline taxes collected this year and increasing the state's share of local relief expenditures from 36 to 50 per cent.

DRIVER FINED $15

Calvin Willmeth Jr., 21, of near Marion was fined $10 and costs after pleading guilty to driving a motor vehicle without an operator's license when he appeared in municipal court at 10 a. m. today. He was arrested by the state patrol at 11 p. m. Thursday on Route 23 north of Marion.

Programs on the Air

There are two sides to every story. But getting both sides told on the same half-hour radio program is the problem regularly besetting A. L. Alexander when he presents his "Mediation Board" Sunday evening series (8-7:30 p. m.) over the Mutual Network.

"The person making the complaint seldom causes me any trouble," the harried Alexander admitted after a recent broadcast. "It's the other party that seldom wants to talk." He added . . . "Even after I've chosen a case for "mediation board" hearing I sometimes have to spend three to four weeks urging both parties to come before our Mutual microphones to voice their difficulties."

Then, two to three hours before air time, Alexander meets with the complainants in his office to familiarize himself more thoroughly with the backgrounds of each case. Another step in his pre-broadcast routines is to separate complainants and defendants—and keep them separated until the show is "off the air." In additon he carefully places screens about the "case" microphones so that participants enjoy complete privacy.

Joan Fontaine will be starred in the Theater Guild on the Air presentation of Keith Winter's tragic drama, "The Shining Hour," on Sunday at 9:30 p. m. over ABC.

The chief supporting roles will be handled by June Duprez, Philip Bourneuf and Elliott Reid.

More research goes into the writing and production of ABC's "The Greatest Story Ever Told" than probably any other dramatic show on the air. Bibles and Biblical records are exhaustively studied and the expect advice of churchmen and historians enlisted.

All times given are Eastern Standard Time. Erroneous listings, if any, are caused by last-minute changes made by stations and networks.

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 14—Stocks revived here and there in today's market although many leaders continued to wilt under light selling.

Some professional bidding was reported on the idea that the list was in much better technical shape for a rally if the news warrants. Numerous customers again trimmed commitments pending more light on the tax situation and developments in next week's special congressional session.

Occasional resistance was displayed by Chrysler, U. S. Steel, Woolworth, U. S. Rubber, United Aircraft, Pennsylvania Railroad, Du Pont, Pacific Western Oil and Johns-Manville. Intermittent laggards included Sears Roebuck, Deere, J. C. Penney, Union Carbide, Anaconda, Cerro de Pasco, Schenley Dow Chemical and Western Union.

WORK OUT DETAILS OF PALESTINE SPLIT

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 — Final details were being worked out today on a plan for the United Nations to administer the proposed partition of Palestine.

Authoritative sources said representatives of the United States, Russia, Guatemala and Canada had tentatively agreed for a five-nation UN commission to take over administration of the Holy Land as fast as British troops withdraw.

These representatives compose a working group of a UN subcommittee which is hammering out a plan for the enforcement of the proposed partition.

The group was expected to submit its new scheme for administering Palestine either this afternoon, when the subcommittee meets at Flushing Meadows park, or tomorrow.

The plan would operate in this way:

1. The UN commission would appoint a provisional council of governments in each country.

2. The provisional councils would name local governments.

3. The provisional councils would form soon as possible a militia from residents of the respective countries.

4. The militia in each country would take over as the British troops withdraw and enforce whatever decisions the commission may take.
